H. E. DONALDSON,

THE WONDERS OF A WATCH.

Very few who carry a watch ever think of the unceasing labor it performs under what would be considered shabby treatment by any other machinery.

There are many who think that a watch ought to run for years without cleaning or a drop of oil. Read this and judge for yourself. The main wheel in an ordinary American watch makes four (4) revolutions a day of 24 hours or 1,460 in a year. Next the center wheel 24 revolutions in a day, or 8,760 in a year. The third wheel 192 in a day, or 559,080 in a year. The fourth wheel 2,440 in a day, or 545,600 in a year. The fifth, or escape wheel 12,960 in a day, or 4,728,200 in a year. The ticks or beats are 388,800 in a day or 141,912,000 in a year.

They are bitten by a dog—perfectly harmless dog, usually—and they brood over it and worry about it until they develop all the symptoms of hydrophobia.

—Considerable excitement was created here by the disappearance yesterday of the eleven year old daughter of William Ryan. It is said that the little girl had threatened to commit suicide on account of the ill treatment at home, and it was feared that she had drowned herself. But she was found at the residence of a relative and is now in safe hands.

—The Normal School management welcomed hundreds of both old and new students this morning at the opening of the summer term. This is one of the most delightful sessions of the year, affording excellent advantages for reviews and exceptional opportunities for spending the warm months in a pleasant summer resort. World's Fair excursions will be provided this term.

—When flies become troublesome in a house or room they can always be expelled by a very simple mixture. A half teaspoonful of black pepper finely ground should be mixed with double the quantity of brown sugar, the compound to be softened with cream. The flies will then eat greedily of this mixture if placed where they can easily reach it, but it will be their last meal, for the least taste of it to the fly is rank poison. If watched, they are often seen to drop dead within a few feet of the plate they have just left, and some of the heartiest eaters do not live to leave the plate.

—Robert G. Ingersoll, though not considered strictly orthodox in theological matters, is perfectly sound on the subject of good roads. He says most truly: "The pleasure and benefit to be found in good roads cannot be over-estimated. Wherever found you are sure to find a thrifty people. By their means neighborly feelings are promoted and social ties strengthened. The advantages of education are brought nearer home, and refinement and cultivation become potent factors in the instruction of the young. Bad roads are very expensive, for they tax time, stock, vehicles and the property transported. Good roads may perhaps require a greater outlay for first cost, but when properly prepared and their maintenance closely watched, are much cheaper in the end."

It is expected that Harvey will be on his way to Joliet before this time tomorrow

HIGH SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT.

The commencement exercises of the Dixon High School, Monday evening was in some respects an innovation on previous occasions of a similar character. The opera house was comforiably filled at an early hour, the slight admission fee resulting in the non attendance of a disturbing element whose absence at such an entertainment is always a cause for congratulation. No nervous energy had been expended in an attempt at elaborate decoration. A simple fringe of evergreen along the footlights, a few vases of flowers on stands, a few rugs on the floor, while near the Professor's seat was displayed the school flag, the grand old stars and stripes "Only this and nothing more." The very familiar and somewhat faded stage scenery did not set off to the best advantage beauty of the class. But it certainly did not need such accessories, and one soon forgot the unfavorable surroundings in contemplation of the modest beauty and youthful attractiveness of the principal actors.

At the appointed hour the exercises commenced with a piano solo "The V. V. March," dedicated to the class by Mrs N P. McKenney. As the last tones of the music died away, Rev. J M. Ruthrauff stepped to the front and invoked the divine blessing on the exercises and all connected therewith. Prof. Heft's orchestra, consisting of some of the most talented members of his promising class of young pupils, gave an instrumental overture, "Shades of Evening," during which the nine members of the graduating class filed in from the wings and centre and took their seats in groups of three as follows: To the left Elizabeth Buckaloo, Ada McKenney, Ethel Halstead. In the centre Mae Strohn, Lester Street, Mabel Kay. To the right Besse Pankhurst, Agnes Coffey, Eva Cook. The young ladies were all dressed in pure white, wore gloves and carried white fans and boquets. Lester Street, the solitarty male member of the class, wore the conventional black.

The first oration was given by Miss Agnes Coffey, in a good clear voice and with commendable self possession. Her theme was "Education," and the subject was well treated, and replete with convincing arguments and illustrations of the benefits of what we usually mean by education—the acquisition of knowledge.

Under the head of what "Was, Is, and May Be," Miss Mae Strohn gave a brief historical glance at the past, commencing with the birth of our own nation, tracing its progress to the present through the various arts and sciences, and ended with a brief phophetic glance into the possible future.

Here the exercises were varied and the audience was favored by Miss Clara Trowbridge with a vocal solo with organ accompaniment by Mrs. Will Smith. It is needless to say that she delighted her hearers.

Taking for her subject "Eyes and Ears" Miss Besse Pankhurst showed that she had made good use of her own. Starting with the proposition that the senses are the avenues through which the mind receives its impressions of life, and that it is chiefly through the organs of sight and hearing that our education is received, she argued the importance of a rightful training of these important members.

Miss Eva Cook, who has before shown considerable ability in recitative work, gave with fine effect a stirring piece entitled "The Battle." It received prolonged applause.

Miss Nellie Moyer, at the conclusion of this rendition gave the audience a series of brilliant variations on the Negro melody "Old Black Joe."

Lester Street spoke for "The Common People," the great middle class between the aristocracy and the lower strata He showed that these were the producers, the creators of wealth, the necessary accummulators of that which makes possible the pursuits of the scientist and the philosopher. As conspicuous examples of men of powerful and lasting influence who have sprung from the ranks of the common people he instanced Lincoln, Grant, Garfield, Burns and others.

"Cracked Pitchers" was the theme of Miss Elizabeth Buckaloo, and it treated in a general way of the destruction of long cherished plans and dreams, of broken ideals and shattered aspirations; but showed that even such seemingly undesirable things as cracked pitchers had a divine use in the economy of nature.

As an interlude Prof. Heft's orchestra here gave the Arion Grand March, which was full of fine music.

Miss Ethel Halstead spoke of "Canoes," first showing how carefully they are constructed and efficient in use. Giving to each part of this apparently frail barque an emblamatic significance corresponding with some virtue or attribute of the human soul, the speaker took a peep into the valley of the future and painted a poetic word picture of arching skies and winding stream and bounding barque, something after the fashion of that grand conception of the artist Cole, whose brush depicted so vividly the "Voyage of Life."

"Compensation" was a subject surprisingly well treated by Miss Ada McKinney. The ceaseless round of changes by

In Paint the best is the cheapest. Strictly Pure White Lead is best; properly applied it will not scale, chip, chalk, or rub off; it firmly adheres to the wood and forms a permanent base for repainting. Paints which peel or scale have to be removed by scraping or burning before satisfactory repainting can be done. When buying it is important to obtain properly made. Time has proven that white lead made by the "Old Dutch" process of slow corrosion possesses qualities that cannot be obtained by any other method of manufacture. This process consumes four to six months time, and produces the brands that have given White Lead its character as the standard paint.

Strictly Pure White Lead

"Southern" "Red Seal"
"Collier" "Shipman"

are standard brands of strictly pure Lead made by the "Old Dutch" process. You get the best in buying them. You can produce any desired color by tinting these brands of white lead with National Lead Co.'s Pure White Lead Tinting Colors.

Gen. Lack-of-Confidence Gives Them Annoyance.

RUNS ON HALF A DOZEN CONCERNS,

One Bank Pays Out Money All Night, and All Declare the Scare to Have No Basis—The Hibernian, Prairie State National, Dime Savings, Union Trust, and Illinois Trust the Institutions Attacked—A Wild Day Among Savings Depositors.

CHICAGO, June 6.—The "lack of confidence" which has been cavorting around the country for some time and has already bowled over a couple of Chicago banks with numerous concerns in other lines of business seems to have settled down over the city to test the endurance of the banking institutions in earnest. Depositors began to be uneasy, rumors were sent flying about and General Lack-of-Confidence took charge for a day. The rumors grew thicker and wilder as they passed about and the result was runs on several institutions which were they to fail would cause widespread suffering in this city and vicinity.

The Banks That Met the Run.

The banks which had the storm to stand were the Prairie State National bank, the State Bank of Commerce, Hibernian Savings bank, the Dime Savings bank, the Union Trust Company's bank, and the Illinois Trust and Savings bank. Under the circumstances it is no small tribute to the soundness of Chicago banks to say that they all withstood the strain. Where the rumors sprang from is a mystery. It is no mystory how they spread, for wildfire is no quicker in its flight than rumor when she takes a fling at the banks.

The Hibernian Bank.

The bank whose failure would have caused the most trouble is the Hibernian Banking association. The officers were not at all alarmed over the run made there. It is regarded as one of the strongest savings banks in the country. The depositors are mostly Irish and it is the depository of large amounts of the funds of the various Roman Catholic parishes. Its last report showed deposits of $2,750,000 individual deposits of $750,000, undivided profits of $533,000. The capital stock is $220,000. Vice President Charles F. Clark, who is manager of the savings department, said at 1 o'clock: "We have been paying depositors all the morning at the rate of three a minute. They are poor people who have every dollar in the world they possess with us, and naturally with the existing conditions they have gotten nervous. We do not blame them."

Run on a Dime Savings Bank.

Another bank that had to suffer for General Lack-of-Confidence was the Dime Savings bank. There was a big crowd outside and inside, but President Samuel G. Bailey expressed no uneasiness, nor would he say whether the bank would enforce its thirty day rule. "We have funds sufficient on hand," he said, "for all regular purposes, and even for an emergency. No occasion exists for this alarm, except the general uneasiness in the air." The bank does solely a savings business, its last report shewing deposits of half a million, and a surplus of $51,000. The loans at the time of the same report amounted to $457,000, while United States bonds and cash on hand aggregated $235,000. All its loans are secured on real estate.

Union Trust Has a Time.

Depositors by the hundreds crowded into the Union Trust Company's bank to get their money, but soon after seeing President Rawson's coolness and even amusement, many went out again without drawing their deposits. But the crowd of withdrawers was immense, just the same. "We saw this coming," said Mr. Rawson, "and were ready for it. We'll pay 'em all." The Union Trust is a member of the Chicago clearing house. It has over $1,000,000 to draw upon above its liabilities. Still people went up and drew out their deposits as if it was the last chance, and as each received his money he drew a long breath of relief.

An Ex-State Bank Examiner's View.

William M. Roberts, late state bank examiner, visited the different savings banks several times during the day and assisted in allaying the fears of depositors. Speaking of the general situation he said: "I do not believe there is a state bank in Chicago that is not fully able to pay $1.50 for every $1 it owes. People have been needlessly alarmed by the collapse of private institutions."

WILD PANIC ALL DAY,

But Only One Failure, Private Bankers, Reported.

Rumor had hardly started a story of one bank than the "dame" looked around for another victim. In this way there was a big run on the Bank of Commerce, but every comer was paid in full. President Felsenthal said the bank would pay every demand made upon it and that nobody would be asked to wait a moment for his money. The Prairie State National bank, corner Washington and Desplaines, was called on for a large amount of deposits in the savings department and paid on demand. The officers said they had been preparing for just this sort of thing.

A run on the Illinois Trust and Savings bank was met by the announcement that it would keep open till 10 p. m. as long as the run lasted. There are $10,000,000 deposits in the savings department of this bank, and seven men were paying depositors. Working twelve hours a day it would take seven men 100 days to pay out the $10,000,000. There was no run on the deposit accounts. A run was begun on the Globe Savings bank at 2 p. m., and the bank immediately posted notice that its legal thirty and sixty-day limit would be the rule.

At 9 p. m. there were 500 persons in line before the paying teller of the Illinois Trust and Savings bank, and the officials announced that they would continue paying until all had their money. At midnight there were 200 and the bank continued to pay. It was after 2 o'clock this morning when the bank closed its doors with the statement that it would be ready to go on this morning at the usual hour.

A run was also started on the Milwaukee Avenue bank. Along toward 11 o'clock it quieted down. Then the people learned of the Meadowcroft failure and the run began again. The bank met all demands and the officers say they are ready to withstand another run today.

The uneasy feeling invaded the board of trade and caused a temporary panic among the speculators in grains and provisions. Prices tumbled headlong and the bears could not trade fast enough to keep up with the falling market. July wheat sold down to 86⅝ cents, a drop of nearly 3 cents, and 1¼ cents lower per bushel than wheat has sold in any year previous to the present. Provisions shared in the general demoralization, pork showing a decline of $1.20 at the close. Corn and oats were also extremely nervous and closed 1 cent lower than the prices current when the market closed at noon Saturday.

With all the panic there was but one bank failure, that of Meadowcroft Bros., private bankers, but it is claimed there that no one will lose a dollar. They had many depositors among marine men, who will be put to serious inconvenience at the least, in having to wait for their money.

Not the least flurry, however, was perceptible at any of the various national banks, and several prominent bankers, whose opinions were asked concerning the panicky feeling in the air, referred to it as simply a passing spasm, due entirely to the uneasiness prevailing among small depositors identified with the savings banks under state jurisdiction. Every national bank, it was insisted, was as sound as a dollar. Not one is in the slightest danger of a run, while there is not one but can meet the heaviest demand that may be made upon it.

A Kansas Land Company Fails.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 6.—The Kansas Grain and Land company, with general offices at Hutchinson, Kan., has failed. No statement of liabilities or assets have been given out, but it is believed the failure is a heavy one. The company operated about 100 elevators along the line of the Santa Fe road and throughout Kansas.

Will Reorganize the Company.

KANKAKEE, Ills., June 6.—Confessions of judgment have been entered against the Gibbs Chair company, of North Kankakee, amounting to $40,000. The assets of the concern are placed at $120,000 and the company will be reorganized and the factory in operation inside of sixty days.

Run on a Madison Bank.

MADISON, Wis., June 6.—There was a small run on the First National bank, but not enough to cause any great excitement. The bank's balance at the close of business Saturday showed $258,000 on hand to meet demands and the officers of the bank are not at all alarmed.

GEN. SLOCUM ON PENSIONS.

He Believes That "Bounty Jumpers" are Too Numerous on the Rolls.

NEW YORK, June 6.—The Brooklyn Eagle publishes an open letter from General H. W. Slocum addressed to John T. Raper, editor of the Ohio Soldier, Chillicothe, O., in reply to a recent article published in that journal. The article referred to criticised some of General Slocum's recent references to the pension system and intimated that the general's utterance came with bad grace from a "man who is drawing a service pension of about $4,000 a year" as retired major general. General Slocum begins his letter with the statement that he is not on the retired list and that he has never drawn a dollar from the government except for services rendered.

At the close of the war a commission giving him a rank in the regular army was offered him, but he declined it. The general declares himself strongly in favor of paying pensions to the real soldiers of the war of the rebellion who are now disabled or in want, but emphatically objects to any payments to bounty jumpers, or men who enlisted in the closing days of the war, and who never heard a hostile shot. The general is very bitter in his denunciation of the "bounty jumpers," three of whom, he says, he "had the pleasure of seeing shot in one day." These same men who risked death and disgrace during the war to secure the bounty of the government do not hesitate to seek that bounty now in time of peace when they really risk nothing.

The general concludes his letter as follows; "I trust that this scandalous business is now to cease. I believe the pension department is now in the hands of a gentleman who, while endeavoring to do justice to all deserving veterans, will not boast of his ability to increase the pension roll at the rate of more than two names a minute. He needs and should receive the support and co-operation of every honest soldier in the country."

LIGHTNING'S FRIGHTFUL WORK.

Three Persons Out of Four Struck Dead in an Instant.

FRANKFORT, Ky., June 6.—The lightning played awful havoc at the little town of Switzer, five miles from Frankfort. Farmer James Redding, his wife and two visitors, Mrs. John Lymen and Alexander Barbour, were sitting on the front porch when a bolt of lightning descended upon the doomed house, instantly killing Mrs. Lymen, Redding and Barbour. Mrs. Redding, who is in a delicate condition, was so shocked that her recovery is hardly possible. Three corpses lay at her feet.

Was Not a Subject for Sympathy.

AUSTIN, Tex., June 6.—H. Bruno Thunig, of Webberville, Tex., had been reported missing for a week. Acquaintences thought he had committed suicide, as he was considered crazy. Newspapers expressed sympathy for his sad lot. But the sheriff has knocked all poetry out of the matter by capturing Thunig in hiding a few miles below this city and lodging him in jail, there to answer to charges of forgery filed from over twenty small adjoining towns.

On the Base Ball Field.

CHICAGO, June 6.—Scores made on the base ball diamond by National league clubs are reported as follows: At Baltimore—Louisville 3, Baltimore 5; at Washington—Pittsburg 7, Washington 14; at Philadelphia—Cincinnati 6, Philidelphia 8; at New York—St. Louis 5, New York 10; at Brooklyn—Chicago 7, Brooklyn 5; at Boston—Cleveland 10, Boston 12.

Carlisle Saves Some More Money.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Secretary Carlisle has dispensed with the services of eighteen inspectors of rags stationed at ports in Europe and directed that the work performed by these inspectors be hereafter discharged by United States consuls and United States Marine hospital officers stationed at the several ports.

Gas Gusher Struck by a City.

FINDLAY, O., June 6.—The city has drilled in a twenty million-foot gasser on the Creighton farm, five miles east of the city. An effort to shut the well in failed and the tubing was blown higher than the derrick. The roar of the escaping gas can be heard for five miles.

Convicts to Make Binding Twine.

ST. PAUL, June 6.—Warden Allen, of Joliet penitentiary, Illinois, accompanied by two of the board of managers, passed through St. Paul en route to Stillwater for the purpose of inspecting the binding twine plant now in use in the Minnesota state penitentiary.

HONOR TO ROYALTY

Chicago Is Host to the Infanta Eulalie.

A WARM WELCOME TO THE PRINCESS

Officials and People Join in a Hearty Demonstration to the Guest from Spain—Incidents of the Trip West—Her Highness Wants a Smoke and Is Accommodated—Danish Day at the Park—The Reform Congresses.

CHICAGO, June 6.—Amid the booming of guns and the plaudits of thousands of people the Princess Eulalie today disembarked from the palatial train which had borne here safely from New York to this city. Ex-Mayor Washburne and Hobart C. Chatfield-Taylor met the train at Grand Crossing and acted as escort to the Union station, where the entire municipal government of the city, headed by Mayor Harrison, met her at the station. After receiving the salutation of the mayor the Infanta was driven to the Palmer House, where a suite of rooms had been prepared for the royal guest of the city. The princess' party is composed as follows: Her royal highness, the Infanta of Spain; his royal highness, Prince Antoine de Bourbon-Orleans; his excellency, the duke of Tamanies; marchioness of Aro Hermosa; Senor Don Pedro Jover y Tovar, private secretary of the princess.

The Procession to the Hotel.

Ex Mayor Washburne was chosen to go to Grand Crossing as the representative of the mayor, while Hobart Chatfield-Taylor is the Spanish consul at this port. As soon as the welcomes at the station had been concluded the Infanta and her husband and the Spanish minister were conducted to a carriage, the mayor also taking a seat in the same conveyance, which was drawn by four horses gaily caparisoned. The Infanta's suite and others who had been invited to receive her followed in other carriages. The party proceeded to the Palmer house by a detour in order to strike Michigan avenue at Congress street, and while they were on the boulevard a royal salute was fired from the gunboat Michigan.

Streets Swept Clean for the Infanta.

The streets along the route had been especially swept the night before, so that the line was perfectly clean. The escort was a couple of troops of United States cavalry, with an officer and orderly on either side of the Infanta's carriage. At the hotel two soldiers were on guard in the corridor near the apartments of the Infanta, and she rested there for the balance of the day. All along the line from the station to the hotel the streets were lined with people who received the Infanta with hearty cheers and waving of handkerchiefs. The princess expressed herself as highly gratified at her reception, and her face was wreathed with smiles during the whole ride.

The Infanta Smokes Cigarettes.

An incident of the trip from New York was the smoking of cigarettes by the Infanta on the train. She said it was all a revelation to her. She marvelled at the manner in which her slightest want was attended to. The colored maid, a feature of the Pennsylvania limited travel, attracted her attention. When she expressed a desire for Spanish cigarettes she was told that some would be ordered at once and put on the train at the next stopping. At Harrisburg the Spanish cigarettes were ready for her and she smoked several of them with unfeigned pleasure.

Sighted a Bathing Party.

While the princess was admiring the scenery along the picturesque Juniata, after leaving Harrisburg, she uttered an exclamation of surprise. Those of her party who were near here looked in the direction she was gazing and beheld a dozen young Americans splashing about in the water in the most unconventional manner. The princess laughed and called the attention of all her party to the white skinned urchins. The earth belonged to the princess and when she expressed a desire to ride on the engine the train was stopped and she was given the experience and enjoyed it.

WORLD'S FAIR GATHERIMGS.

An Exhibit That Archbishop Ireland Would Like to See at the Fair.

There were fair audiences at the temperance gatherings in the Art Institute, and the question of how to down the "demon" alcohol was discussed in all its bearings. During an address by Archbishop Ireland that prelate said: "They tell me that at the great Columbian exposition there are gorgeous columns composed of whisky bottles and arches of triumph made with beer barrels. Why do they show the springtime without the autumn? Why not also show the Cook county jails, hospitals and asylums, where can be seen vice most hideous and suffering most terrible that have flowed from the use of liquor?" and this sentiment received hearty applause.

There were interesting discussions at each meeting. At night there were addresses by Rev. Dr. Albert G. Lawson, chairman; Rev. Dr. Theodore L. Cuyler, Mrs. Mary A. Livermore, Rev. Dr. Q. P. Gifford. This morning the programme included papers on "The Physical Benefits of Total Abstinence," B. W. Richardson, M. D., F. R. S., London; "The Effect of Alcoholic Intoxication Upon the Brain, and Its Relation to the Theories of Heredity and Evolution," A. Forel, M. D., Zurich, Switzerland; "The Latest Verdict of Science Concerning Alcohol," N. S. Davis, M. D., Chicago; "Are Beer and Light Wines To Be Encouraged as Against the Stronger Distilled Liquors?" J. B. Dunn, D. D., Boston, Mass. These were followed by spirited discussions.

Another body of reformers is to have part of the week, beginning tomorrow evening. They are those who believe that oxen, sheep, poultry, and other animals were not made to be eaten—except perhaps by lions, tigers, bears, and other such beasts. They live on nothing that doesn't grow out of the ground, and believe that therein is found the highest attainment of human happiness and health. They are the vegetarians and are of British extraction, having originated in England many years ago. They will meet for greeting tomorrow night and get down to the business of proving that porter house steak is not good provender Thursday. But they will never succeed while the people will pay $1.75 for one of those steaks at the World's fair casino.

If the greater nations of Europe and American organizations make half as good a showing on their fair fete days as little Denmark did, those days will be the most attractive and popular features of the fair. On the stage in Festival hall where the ceremonies took place were the exposition orchestra and Conductor Thomas, the Danish singing societies; Commissioner General Emil Meyer, of Denmark; C. Michelsen, president of the Danish commission; Otto A. Dreier, Danish consul at Chicago, and many others, while 4,000 Danes went to the park to participate. There were Danish music, speeches and a parade. As a windup the Danish exhibit was opened.

Japan's quaint exhibit in the Fine Arts building was also formally opened, a reception being held for invited guests between 2 and 3 o'clock. After the private inspection the room was thrown open to the public and the invited guests went over to the Japanese tea house where tea and lunch were served. The hooden or Phœnix palace on the wooded island, the building which the Japanese government is to give to the city of Chicago after the fair, was also opened.

Paid admissions to the World's fair for the day were 55,870.

FIGHT AGAINST THE TRUSTS.

The Delegates Present at a Convention Held at Chicago.

CHICAGO, June 6.—Thirty-four states are represented in a convention now in session at Apollo Music hall in this city, called by Governor Nelson, of Minnesota, to consider action to be taken by the states to suppress the trusts. Among the delegates are Governor Nelson and Ignatius Donnelly, of Minnesota; D. T. Dell, L. D. Harris, J. E. Taylor and E. Whiffer, of Michigan; Justin Wells, Iowa; W. H. Wakefield, Kansas; H. G. Curtis and N. W. Brower, Iowa; J. H. Brinker, Missouri; John P. Stelle, James M. Washburne, S. S. Boyce, W. G. Eggleston, J. M. Thompson, Henry D. Lloyd, E. O. Brown and H. W. Clendenin, Illinois; General Weaver, of Iowa, and Edward Rosewater, of Omaha.

The leaders of the movement are Nelson, Donnelly, Weaver, and others, largely from Populist ranks. Governor Nelson said that Minnesota is at work trying to suppress the coal and lumber trusts of that state, but the trust operations were so intricate that the present laws were not efficient and this convention was to suggest laws that would do the work. Governor Nelson was made chairman, and the routine business rapidly transacted.

Ignatius Donnelly offered resolutions suggesting that if all other measures failed the property of trusts should be confiscated and they denied access to the courts, and declaring that no power exists in the courts, state or national, to override a state or national law; that the judiciary has encroached until the power of the people to legislate is practically at an end, and that the judiciary is an oligarchy appointed by the plunderers of the people. The pith of Donnelly's resolution is that when a law is passed the courts cannot declare it unconstitutional.

Corey, of Pennsylvania, offered a sarcastic resolution, in which he wanted to know the names of those trusts which had violated the law. Governor Nelson said sarcasm was not wanted, and Gen. Weaver told Corey that he would furnish him with all the proof necessary before he got through with the conference. All the resolutions were turned over to the committee which met later to prepare one which would be satisfactory to all the delegates.

Trust Accepts Bids for Bonds.

PEORIA, Ills., June 6.—The board of directors of the Distilling and Cattle Feeding company met in this city, all the members of the board being present except Nelson Morris, of Chicago. The principal business transacted was the matter of accepting bids for bonds. President Greenhut stated that enough were sold to realize sufficient money to meet pressing demands upon the company. The bonds were sold at a low figure. The offer was received. It could not be learned how many bonds were sold nor at what figure.

The Human Electrical Forces!

How They Control the Organs of the Body.

The electrical force of the human body, as the nerve fluid may be termed, is an especially attractive department of science, as it exerts so marked an influence on the health of the organs of the body. Nerve force is produced by the brain and conveyed by means of the nerves to the various organs of the body, thus supplying the latter with the vitality necessary to insure their health. The pneumogastric nerve, as shown here, may be said to be the most important of the entire nerve system, as it supplies the heart, lungs, stomach, bowels, etc., with the nerve force necessary to keep them active and healthy. As will be seen by the cut the long nerve descending from the base of the brain and terminating in the bowels is the pneumogastric, while the numerous little branches supply the heart, lungs and stomach with necessary vitality. When the brain becomes in any way disordered by irritability or exhaustion, the nerve force which it supplies is lessened, and the organs receiving the diminished supply are consequently weakened.

Physicians generally fail to recognize the importance of this fact, but treat the organ itself instead of the cause of the trouble. The noted specialist, Franklin Miles, M. D., L.L. B., has given the greater part of his life to the study of this subject, and the principal discoveries concerning it are due to his efforts. Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, the unrivaled brain and nerve food, is prepared on the principle that all nervous and many other difficulties originate from disorders of the nerve centers. Its wonderful success in curing these disorders is testified to by thousands in every part of the land.

Restorative Nervine cures sleeplessness, nervous prostration, dizziness, hysteria, sexual debility, St. Vitus dance, epilepsy, etc. It is free from opiates or dangerous drugs. It is sold on a positive guarantee by all druggists, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid.

A ROBBERS' FEAT IN ARKANSAS.

Brave Act of a Print Shop Girl—She Saves Half of the Amount Captured—Citizens Rally and a Lively Fight Ensues in Which a Farmer Is Killed—Two Other Citizens and Two Robbers Wounded.

BENTONVILLE, Ark., June 6.—The People's bank has been robbed by a gang of six desperadoes armed with Winchesters, who secured over $10,000. They were from the Indian territory and came into town with four fine horses and a white topped buggy, which were left in the rear of the Sun office under charge of one man while the other five went in single file in front of the place half a block north to the People's bank, where they entered and covered the bank officials, President A. W. Dinsmore, Vice President J. R. Hall, Cashier J. C. McAndrew, Assistant Cashier G. P. Jackson, with Winchesters.

Saved by a Plucky Girl.

One of the men made Cashier McAndrew dump the contents of the safe into sacks brought for the purpose, putting $10,000 gold and currency into one and $11,000 silver into the other. After securing the money they made the officials march in front of them as they started for their horses, forcing Mr. Jackson to carry the sack of silver. In passing The Sun office Miss Maggie Wood, of The Sun force, had the presence of mind to rush to the door and open it, letting Mr. Jackson in with his sack of silver and immediately shut and locked the door.

MR. NORMAN LICHEY, Des Moines, Ia.

Dear Sir:—A sample of Krause's Headache Capsules was left in my husband's office a few days since, and as I am subject to headaches—neuralgia, nervous, and in fact every other kind—he thoughtfully brought the sample box home. The very next day I had a chance to try them and one capsule relieved me in less than half an hour. Next day I was attacked again, took another capsual with the same delightful result, in less than half an hour my head felt as well as ever, with no bad feeling as the after result. I have had these tertible headaches for twenty years, and have tried every remedy I ever heard of, but nothing I have ever taken has cured or relieved me as QUICKLY as KRAUE'S HEADACHE CAPSULES. MRS. N. A. SKINNER.

"Have I any objection to your printing a portion of my letter? NO! If my testimony will induce any one who suffers with headache to buy your CAPSULES I will be glad." MRS. N. A. SKIFNER

—See change in the advertisement of the sale of pie plant by Christian Wuehl. The Chicago price for this commodity is two and a half cents per pound, so two cents is little enough for our gardner to ask. There is a demand for the vegetable on account of the poor prospect for small fruit.

—An exchange says that the Methodist conferences at Aurora the other day developed this queer idea that if the World's Fair is kept open on Sunday it will be a sin to attend it any day in the week. All the railroads at Aurora run trains on Sunday, and "by the same token" it is a sin to ride on them any day in the week. So there is no way left for the members of the conference to get home, if they are consistent, but to ride "shank's mare."

Destroyed by Fire and Again at Work.

The Price Baking Powder Company of Chicago, which is known throughout the country for the superior excellence of its Baking Powder, met with a serious loss on the morning of May 18th, in the nearly total destruction by fire of its factory and offices. No sooner had the flames been subdued than the work of restoration commenced, and the Company by prudent foresight, having had stored in outside warehouses duplicate machinery, labels and supplies of raw materials in preparation for any emergency was able by energetic management to resume manufacturing within a very few days after the fire, thereby causing its customers but a trifling delay in the filling of their orders. Had the Company not been so prepared the delay would have been very serious, since it would have required months of time to get new machinery.

From Grand Detour.

Tuesday morning, May the 30th, the sunshine let its light upon the earth in a fit halo to the living who gathered in loving tribute to honor the heroic dead, whose deeds of bravery are the patriotic legacy of American freemen. The citizens of Grand Detour and vicinity assembled in the M. E. Church to observe Decoration Day. James Devlin called the meeting to order and introduced D. H. Beebe of Elgin, who made the first speech, followed by William Spichier of Mt. Union, and short speeches by C. W. Johnson and S. W. Earl, interspersed with singing by a quartette of ladies, Miss Eva Chamberlin presiding at the organ.

The procession was formed and twenty eight boys and girls were each supplied with a wreath of evergreens and flowers from the abundant store gathered and tastefully arranged by the floral committee, and, accompanied by the citizens, marched to the Grand Detour cemetery, where under the direction of C. D. Sawyer twenty-eight graves of dead soldiers were decorated with wreaths of fragrant flowers and evergreens.

Mrs. Albin Rogers, whose illness I spoke of last week, died at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. Bedient, Sunday morning, June 4. Several weeks ago she showed symptons of mental aberation. Her case grew worse, and her parents induced her to go home with them, whice she reluctantly consented to, lest they take her to an insane asylum. She ate but little and at length refused to eat at all. She was a respected member of the Baptist church. She left a husband and three children, the youngest being about nine years old.

Thomas S. Angier, aged seventy-one years, joined the silent majority, Monday afternoon, June 5th. He had resided in this township about fifty years; was Justice of the Peace most of that time, and was a member of the Board of Supervisors about thirty years. He has buried two daughters and three sons. His wife and two sons survive him. He was a prominent Free Mason, and will be buried Wednesday afternoon according to the custom of that order.

Jacob Clark is at home from the soldier's home in Quincy.

Lawyer Bartlett, of Dixon, was in town Monday.

Next Sunday will be Children's Day, when we will repeat.

What makes Mary love the lamb so?
The children all did cry.

Old Whackem did reply.

which the harmony of nature seems to be disturbed, and the compensations by which that harmony is restored, gave scope for fine philosophic treatment, and well was it improved. The thesis was full of thought, presented in well chosen words delivered in a clear voice under good control.

A pleasing surprise was here afforded the audience as little Miss Florence Pinckney, in character, stepped forth and with a pathos beyond her years sung very sweetly the touching ballad, "Water Cresses."

"Wit and Wisdom" was treated by Miss Mabel Kay in contrast and combination. Wit, guided and directed by Wisdom often becomes a bright and effective reformer. Wisdom was likened to the deep under current of life; Wit, to the wavelets that sparkle on the surface. The oration was full of poetic conception and apt illustrations.

The presentation of diplomas was made by Prof. Williamson in very few but appropriate words.

Prof. Heft's orchestra gave a skillful rendition of the "Beggar Student" March. The professor's advent to our city some years ago was truly a musical event of more than usual interest. With it started a musical enthusiasm among our young people that still continues to gather strength. It is wonderful the talent he develops in his pupils. No one would suppose that some of the members of his orchestra last night had been under his instruction but a few weeks.

At the close of the music Prof. Williamson arose from his seat and gave the class address. This was a unique innovation, and consisted of an original poem, dedicated to the class of nine of '93. It was composed of nine stanzas, arranged in groups of three, corresponding with the groups on the stage, who in turn stepped forward as the professor took up the several divisions. The poem was suggested by the class oration on "Canoes," and was entitled

GOD'S MARINERS.

I

With steady hand and faithful eye,
'Neath starry vault, or sun-lit sky,
Now trim your sails to reach that shore
Whose waves of joy break evermore
Upon the strand
Of God's own land.

Your freighted vessels sail the sea—
A goodly fleet of three times three.
Blow, favoring winds, and swiftly waft,
O'er floods serene their Hope-winged craft,
Till heaven's own light
Shines full in sight.

O sailors, in your morn of youth,
May Love at helm and Faith and Truth,
And Reason just, and Friendship fair,
Direct your course with tender care,
In heaven's own smile,
From fraud and guile.

II

Young mariners, now side by side
From childhood's orient shores ye glide.
Life's pulsing current bears you on
To broader fields and noontide sun,
Where harvests stand
For heart and hand:—

Rich harvests for the cultured mind,
Affections true, impulses kind,
Deft hands and hours of generous toil
Forever ripening in the soil
Where deeds of grace
Bring smiles and peace.

Old mariners ye'll sometime be,
Sailing across a quiet sea,
Your tasks of life all fairly done,
Ye'll drift toward the western sun,
Whose waning light
Melts into night.

III

Then for each loyal senior's bark
That breasts the main in gathering dark,
May life immortal burst from far,
And beam, a radiant beacon star,
From heights that bloom,
Through shade and gloom,

Breathe, gentle winds,—speed, freshening gales;
Exalt their hearts and fill their sails:—
Bring all the craft that lov-ed be—
The faithful fleet of ninety-three,—
To sheltering bay
In heaven's clear day.

God's mariners ye'll cease to be,
Your anchored fleet of three times three;
Your sailing done, your drifting o'er,
Ye'll land upon the eternal shore,—
God's children ye,
Blest three times three,
Shall ever be—
The Class of Nine, of Ninety-three.

The recital of each division of three stanzas was supplimented with the rendition of three of the nine beatitudes to be found in the fifth chapter of St. Matthew's gospel. These were then presented, one after another to the keeping of the several groups of the class. The exercise was not only a departure from established routine, but was very effective and interesting.

After another fine orchestral selection, "Golden Days," the audience was dismissed with a benediction by Rev. H. C. Leland.

Several things about this graduation were conspicuously meritorious. First there was an absence of all effort at mere display. More brilliant effects have been produced; but here the whole affair was practical and in good taste. Even the vainglorious display of presents was tabooed.

Secondly, the advance in public sentiment on one point was shown on the program. A few years ago the boys were the only orators; the girls timidly read essays. Later, they brought their papers to the front, but simply held them in their hands. Then they discarded intirely their manuscripts; but still the girls' production was an "essay," while the boys', of no appreciable difference, was an oration. Now the graduating misses are not afraid of sharing with their brothers the merited title of "orator."

Lastly, the exercises commenced precisely on time, to the minute; and if all the operations of the school are conducted with the same promptitude, a most invaluable lesson and fundamental element of success in life is being inculcated—a lesson too generally neglected in the training of youth. Commencing on time, with each exercise short, and not a moment of time wasted between numbers, the whole affair passed off smoothly and was brought to a close early, the audience being sent home unwearied at twenty minutes before ten o'clock.

A SUCCESSFUL SALE

would be expressing it too mildly.

IT IS A WONDERFUL SALE.

THIS $14.87 SUIT SALE.

There never has, probably never will be offered in this city such an opportunity as this Great Fourteen Eighty-Seven Suit Sale. The continuous frail attempts of feeble opponents to stop the mighty rush of customers to our ever popular Clothing Emporium, reminds us of the little dog that barked at the moon, and finally the poor thing died. The truth is good enough for us, bold as this assertion may seem, we will be only too glad to prove that we show three times the stock of any concern in Dixon.

That our wares are the best in America. The prices lower than any local concern and as low as any in the State.

It's a man's suit for $14.87 that causes all this squeal and it can't be matched at any other house for less than $18.00, $20.00 and $22 00, only, at
